JAKE GARDNER.

His Troubles Regarding the Election.

There is no man better known in this city than the gentleman whose name heads this article. He has been prominently before the public for a number of years, and has served for the last tour years as Alderman from the Fourth Ward, a position which he has filled with average ability.

His turbulent temper and pugilistic propensities have been the means of getting him into a good many brawls, in-cident to all heated political contests, in consequence of which his name has figured rather frequently in the Police

Gured rather frequently in the Police Court.

Mr. Gardner, however, is a man of many good qualities and generous impulses, and no doubt his unruly temper is the cause of much of his troubles. He has now two cases pending against him, before Judge Lindemann, and a third was dismissed this morning, that of malicious destruction of property, in breaking the balls -box on last Tuesday, during the count of the vote in the day, during the count of the vote in the First Precinct of the Fourth Ward.

The two remaining charges are "disorderly conduct" and "destroying the bailot-box," both alleged to have been committed at the same time and place. In regard to the destruction of the ballocker, it is but due that We Gard. The two remaining charges are "discorderly conduct" and "destroying the battot-box," both alleged to have been committed at the same time and place. In regard to the destruction of the ballot-box it is but due that Mr. Gardner's statement should be heard, corroborated as it is by that of Councilman F. D. Duffy, of the same ward, and which is in substance that Gardner appeared at the poils of the First Precinct of the Fourth Ward on the day of the election and demanded admittance, which at first was retused.

Finally, however, he was allowed to enter where all the rest of the candidates were engaged in casting up the figures relative to their own vote, and being told that his defeat was assured, he raised his clenched fist, and with a thump aimed at the table on which sat the ballot-box containing the ballots, swore there was swindling going on, and that he did not intend to submit to it. the ballots, swore there was swinding going on, and that he did not intend to submit to it. In bringing his hand down it struck the lid of the box, splitting it in two, but nothing was further from his intention than the destruction of the box. He was indignant at what he considered an intention to count him out, and very naturally protested against it.

If he is convicted of a deliberate intention to interfere with an election he should be punished, but it strikes the average mind that Jake has too much good sense to commit so serious a crime, and he will ne doubt be able to prove his innecence at the trial, which has been set down for the 12th.

has been set down for the 12th.

Jimmy Fitzgerald appeared as counsel for Gardner, and having satisfactorily disposed of the above two charges he desired a continuance of twenty days to obtain witnesses in the case of destroying the ballot-box.

He stated that two of his witnesses had gone to Memphis. He was pre-pared to meet the other charges, but the warrant in this case had been sworn out late yesterday, and as the witnesses would not be back for eight or ten days he asked the continuance.

Judge Lindemann said he would give him reasonable time, when Jimmy re-marked that there was no hurry about the case, as there is no Grand Jury in

An Important Decision.

Judge Swing yesterday rendered an important decision in a suit upon a promissory note for $500. The note was given in Butler County, Ohio, in 1872 for a patent right, and the note contained on its face the words, "Given for a patent right."

When a patent right is soid a law of Ohio, passed in 1889, requires the words named to be inserted in the body of the note. The law further provides that when the maker inserts these words anybody who may buy the note before due does not, as in ordinary commercial paper, get a good title necessarily, but the maker is allowed to prove that a fraud was committed upon him, if such was the case.

The defendant offered to prove that the present owner of the note, who bought it before due, was bound, under the Ohio law, to permit such a defense to be made. Judge Swing, however, took a made. Judge Swing, however, took a different view, and pronounced the Ohio law unconstitutional, saying in substance that the insertion of the words "Given for a patent right" is no protection to the maker, and of no force whatever.
